

Have your say in the creation of lower limb compression patient resources!

PEN are looking for people with wounds, carers, family members and clinical and health and care professionals to take part in the creation of patient and carer resources in the first of a series of co-creation activities.

As part of our work to improve the experience of people with wounds, PEN will be running a series of online/digital co-creations across three topics; the first of which looks to design and create resources to be used by patients when they are prescribed compression for lower limb conditions.

This is a true co-creation project led by patients and carers (supported by PEN) and patients, carers, family members (with and without experience of compression) and clinical/health and care professionals are welcome to take part. Although work has started, you would be very welcome to join and participate.

The co-creation is taking place online until March 2022 and will enable you to contribute at your own pace, whenever suits you, in depth or just light touch feedback.

There will be a series of questions which we would like your views on. We will use the responses to create a series of resources and then return to you for your consideration. PEN will set up a closed/private space to collect the views and ideas of the group and share thoughts and information. The opportunity will close 15th of March.

If you are interested in taking part, please contact:

helen@patientexperiencenetwork.org

This is a great opportunity to improve the experience of patients experiencing lower limb compression and we would really value your contribution.